Fire Discovered in Roof of Creamery Extinguished without Damage.

While about his usual work in the creamery on Monday morning, Manager Herbert Dwyer detected the smell of smoke, and upon making an investigation discovered that a small fire had started on the roof of the building near the smoke stack, and, while it had burned a hole through the roof, it had not gained sufficient headway but that he was able to extinguish it without calling for help.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Ordway and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Corlies went to Barre City Wednesday to remain a few days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Mattison have been entertaining as their guests this week Miss Sarah J. Dearborn and Miss Marion Paul of West Fairlee.

Edward C. Holmes of Worcester, who a few years ago lived on Charles A. Luce's farm on the east hill, was in town on business Tuesday and Wednesday.

Attorney Stanley C. Wilson was in Montpelier Tuesday to argue a case before the supreme court, and Deputy Sheriff George A. Tracy was also in Montpelier Monday and Tuesday on business.

Miss Grace Denmore is ill with the measles at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. Fay Allen, Urrin Lyford, who lives on the M. C. Allen farm on the west hill, is also another late victim of the measles.

Rev. John A. Lawrence of Marshfield will preach at the Congregational church Sunday, when it is hoped there will be a good attendance to hear the reverend gentleman, as he comes with the recommendation of being an unusually good speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Mattison entertained at their home in the bank building nearly fifty of their friends Tuesday evening, at which progressive whist was the order of entertainment, and during the evening confetti and punch were served, and the evening was most delightfully spent.

A social, under the auspices of the ladies of the Methodist church, will be held Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Tracy J. Smith at the east hill. Two double teams will leave at 7 p. m. for the market at about 7 o'clock for the social, and anyone who has no other conveyance can avail himself of this opportunity to attend the social and have a good time.

On Tuesday, Deputy Sheriff Dan D. Howe of Randolph brought to the county jail for twenty days each two drunks from Randolph, and before he had left the office Constable Burt Robinson of Williamstown arrived with another pair of drunks sent over from that town for twenty days each. This double commitment swelled the number of inmates to 18, which is the largest number that has graced the new jail at any one time.

B. H. Adams arrived home Sunday evening with four horses, which he had purchased in Manchester, N. H., for his sale stable, and soon after his arrival he discovered that one of them was ill. Dr. Hill was summoned, but the animal, which was a heavy, dark Tuesday afternoon with pneumonia as the result of a cold contracted in transit, and, while it is only natural for a man to notice the loss of $150, yet Ben is not one of the kind who takes his misfortune to heart.

At 1 o'clock p. m., Saturday of this week, Deputy Sheriff George A. Tracy will sell at public auction in front of the hotel a lot of personal property, consisting in part of one pair of good young mules, a lot of harness, including harness, wagons, stores and a lot of farm machinery, too numerous to mention. The property is good property, and the time will be opportune to buy at bargain prices, as it will be sold for cash and without reserve.

Ernest Young, who resides on the west hill and who is one of our most enterprising young farmers and stock raisers, tells us that from his dairy of seven cows, one of which is but two years old and another but three years old, during the month of December and January last past he made, besides what milk and cream was used in the family and for the making of six freezers of ice cream, 681 pounds of butter, which he sold for $220.88. Mr. Young is also the owner of Groundell, a three-year-old stallion, which is one of the best and most promising Morgan stallions in this section of the country.

EAST ORANGE.

Mrs. Charles Burgh, who has been ill for some time, is gaining.

George Simpson is suffering from an attack of sciatic rheumatism.

H. A. Prescott and E. A. Burroughs were Bradford visitors recently.

Mrs. R. H. Blake spent Saturday and Sunday at Will Rogers' in Orange.

Delbert Hutchinson was home from his school at Bradford over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldes Prescott went to Burlington to be with their sister, Mrs. Cook, who went there for an operation; who her brother, Mayners Prescott of Fairlee went with them.

Mrs. Fanny Cook of Orange, but formerly of this place, went to the Mary Fletcher hospital at Burlington for an operation, which she had Monday. Her many friends here will be glad to hear that she is doing well and will hope for her a speedy recovery.

SOUTH BARRE.

The South Barre Sunday school will have a social Saturday evening at the Rev. A. Woodruff's. Will the ladies please bring cake? All are cordially invited.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the president of the Industrial and Orphans' home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or run-down people, it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Dr. Whitaker of Barre was here to see Mike Elliott on Thursday.

For the name in our items of Thursday, misprinted "James S. Haskins," read James S. Hopkins—as it was written.

The newly organized choral society will have its first meeting at the home of the director, W. E. Randall, on Monday evening next, the 14th inst.

One of our board of sanitarians tells us that in their findings, in the matters of the town for the last year, there is a balance against the town of $1,203.56.

"Neighbor Jackwood" is to be presented at the grange hall by members of the grange on Thursday evening the 24th inst., and again on Saturday evening, the 26th inst.

Don A. Earle was recently in northern New York on business for the company in Fitchburg, Mass., for which he travels. He seems to know the out and ins of steam engines to perfection.

Lewis M. Seaver's brother-in-law, Charles M. Patterson of Chicago, of whom we recently wrote as being now 80 years of age, has a small store in Chicago that he tends himself.

On Wednesday, the 16th inst., the Ladies' Missionary society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. J. E. Ainsworth, and the subject of the meeting will be "Child Labor Conditions."

Not very long ago, Nelson M. Carleton came into possession of the old-time school building back of the Congregational church that has in late years been used by James Gregory as a machine shop. Mr. Carleton, we are told, is about to convert the building into a tenement house.

William Reor, who died last week at some point north of Montpelier, was to have been buried last Monday in our village cemetery, where the body of a daughter was buried; but a change was made at the last moment, and the body was placed in a vault at Montpelier, to be buried here later. For some years Mr. Reor was a resident of our place, his farm having been on the east line of the town on a road to Washington. He leaves a brother in town, Isaac Reor, who lives on the old J. B. Brockway place, north of Mill village. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, having enlisted in Wisconsin. The name is said to have been originally "Reor."

On Thursday of this week, we made our first visit to the job printing office of H. A. Thurber, a mile or more from our village. We have all known here for some time that he can do nice, clean-looking jobs of work, and he seems to be well patronized by our citizens. This year he will print the town reports of Barre and Williamstown, only, having refused other reports for lack of assistance in his office that he has heretofore had. We were shown some new work that he is now doing for a Masonic lodge and an Eastern Star chapter in Oxford, N. H. We wonder how many persons of native stock there are in our little town, who were born in childhood thrilled by the story of the wonderful bravery of Hannush Dustin of Haverhill, Mass., who was taken captive by Indians and then, a little later, in New Hampshire, slew and scalped her captors and secured her deliverance. One would like to reckon such an ancestor in one's descent. Mr. Thurber has this pleasure, as he is a lineal descendant of Hannush Dustin.

SOUTH ROYALTON.

Don Chapple of Concord, N. H., is in town for a short stay.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hope last Saturday. All are doing well.

Mrs. Samuel Brow is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Sherwin, in Woodstock.

The Haggard Shoe company is running its factory on full time now, with good prospects ahead.

Abbott & Doyle have their dam fully repaired, which was damaged by the recent high water.

Several members of Royalton lodge, No. 74, I. O. O. F., attended the installation of officers at Simon Saturday evening.

George Sibley is home for a few days from Montpelier, where he has a position with the Green Mountain Electric company.

Mrs. Nellie Mosher of Pomfret underwent a surgical operation while stopping here with her son, Fred N. Mosher, February 9, and is reported as doing well.

The recent fire at Randolph is another illustration of what a water system amounts to. South Royalton people, please don't be backward about coming forward.

There are three cases of scarlet fever reported in town, one at the north end, Frank Spaulding, and Fred Smith's two sons, living on the Brooklyn side. The selection have closed the school.

HAD A HARD TASK.

But Somerville Finally Threw Tommy Bennett of Lowell.

Rutland, Feb. 11.—In one of the prettiest wrestling matches seen in this city thus far this season, Bob Somerville won last night over Tommy Bennett of Lowell, Mass., taking two out of three falls. The first fall went to Bennett in 48 minutes and 38 seconds, with a double arm hold. The second went to Somerville in 17 minutes and 26 seconds, he using a crotch and body hold following a pretty giant swing. Somerville got the third and last fall in 18 minutes and 52 seconds with a crotch and body hold. Bennett is the most scientific wrestler who has gone against Somerville in this city thus far this season.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"The Wizard of Wiseland" at Opera House Next Tuesday.

One of the big musical successes of the season is the new, two-act farcical extravaganza, "The Wizard of Wiseland," the book by Eunice Fitch and Harry Scott, the score and lyrics by Lily Leo Le-selle.

The instantaneous success gained by this merry offering is said to be due to a clear and well-wrought-out plot, and to the excellence of the music, the standard of the latter, according to several critics, reaching that of light opera. The piece is heralded as being exceedingly rich in lyrics, which include solos, duets, trios and quartets—some of the artistic kind that force the way into parlor and drawing room, and others that are hummed and whistled everywhere.

The story is just as original as the title. The graduating class of a young ladies' seminary through the mystic properties of a potion prepared by their professor of chemistry and which they drink while continuously wishing for the same thing, are transported during a short sleep to a wonderful island, where and where a benignant fairy queen takes them in charge and promotes one of the men of the party to the dignity of "The Wizard of Wiseland." The peculiar conditions prevailing in Wiseland cause comical confusion for a time, as everything in the disposition and circumstance of each individual is reversed. The results can be imagined when it is remembered that the young ladies have had their love experiences and their men companions there. In the end, all are eager to get back to their former surroundings, a wish which the good fairy gratifies by a wave of her wand.

"Pebbles are pearls and flowers are girls,"

It can be readily seen that there are great opportunities for the display of ingenious and intricate scenic art in the stage settings, as well as of weird and beautiful transformations and of bewitching and fascinating costumes. Over 400 costumes are used in the presentation, owing to the great variety called for.

"The Wizard of Wiseland" will be seen at the opera house next Thursday evening. A talented company of singers and players with a large and efficient chorus and well trained ballet are promised in the presentation here.

BARRE, VERMONT

AN INNOCENT VICTIM.

The Original of Squeers Died of a Broken Heart.

The greatest injury which Dickens ever inflicted on a fellow being was his too accurate portrait of an innocent man in his Squeers. That York-shire schoolmaster was, as a rule, cruel and wicked enough to be true, but the particular schoolmaster who was recognized and who recognized himself as the original Squeers seems to have been an exception to the rule.

It will be remembered that Dickens and his illustrator traveled together to the north of England for the purpose of collecting material for "Nick-leby" and especially for the Dot-brothers episode. At Great Bridge they visited a boarding school known as Bowes academy. The master, William Shaw, received the strangers with some hauteur and did not as much as withdraw his eyes from the operation of penmanship during the interview.

Phil sketched him in the act; Dickens described the act. The personal peculiarities of William Shaw were recognized in Squeers. Shaw became a butt of popular ridicule, lost his pupils and finally died of a broken heart. Yet there is abundant evidence to prove that he was a really excellent and kind hearted man, who was made to suffer for the misdeeds of his neighbors.—Exchange.
